emancipation took place and since—what our Southern States will be involved in, in the event of Strevens' wicked confiscation scheme prevailing—the portioning out of the plantations and lands of the Rebelowners among their late slaves, now called treeting.

island at that time were sugar and cotton, stitutional government, from which no act In 1790, there was exported from Hayti of any other State, section or people can In 1790, there was exported from Hayti of sugar 163,315,814 pounds, and of cotton 7.
286,135 pounds. In 1826, the growth of sugar had declined to 32,864 and that of cotton for 629,972 pounds. The exportation of his committed itself to a general delegate convention, suggesting Louisville as the place for it. The State Central Committee of cotton but 544,816 pounds were sent to have for it. The State Central Committee of cotton but 544,816 pounds were sent to have the movement originated in Ohio. it is fair to suppose that a still further reduction or decline has taken place.

In the meantime, while morality is decaying, and the productions of the island fast diminishing in volume and value, the people are being made the tools of demagogues, and one ambitious leader after another mounts the sent of power, robs the treasury, and degrades still further the nation. Then comes revolution; blood is shed, property destroyed, and a new drama is begun, to end like its predecessors. If a suc cessor is chosen in the place of President GEFFARD, he will not long escape from the tempest and whirlwind of revolution. The decline of Hayti is a lesson full of fearful import to the people of this country. Will lately its lessons be pondered at this crisis?

Bounty Equalization-A Humbug. The New York Sun shows up, in a pungent way, the tricky inequality of what i termed the Soldiers' Bounty Equalization Law. It produces the case of a soldier who enlisted for two years and was mustered out of service one month previous to the expiration of his term. He made application for bounty under the law which i misuamed the bounty equalization measure, and was denied on the ground that he had been in service less than two years. The to show that the law in question is a complete farce, as far as equalizing the bounties is concerned.

Is there any reason why a soldier who served twenty-four months should receive a bounty while he who serves a month or even a day less should receive nothing! Some soldiers were worth more in a year than others were during the whole war, and there is no doubt that many who now obtain the bounty are far less worthy than others to whom it is denied. The Sun justly remarks that "the unfairness of the law led to the introduction of something like half a dozen amendatory bills during the last session of Congress, but that body was unfortunately so carnestly engaged Mckee, WOODWARD & WEAKLEY, with the negro question that the needs of the soldiers were overlooked, and nothing was done toward a revision of the bounty law."

137 The Louisville Journal remarks: "No doubt a fearful future is before us, and ; fearful present around us. We do no prophesy. We calmly await events. Let the South do the same thing. One thing is certain-the destruction of one section luvolves the destruction of both."

A thousand pages could not more clearly present the condition of affairs than the Groceries and Liquors, few lines above quoted from the Louisville (Ky.,) Journal.

"Warn the committees," were the dying words of Jefferson. Let us first have com-mittees and organization every where. Pampered Tyrants - Down With Them: The New Haven Register gives accounts of several outrageous acts of tyranny and proscription, perpetrated by cotton-mill lords on their employees since Connecticut wheeled into the Democratic ranks. In decision is technically correct, but it serves Tolland County a number of men who did not vote the Jacobin ticket were turned into the streets with their families. In Rockville, where the Democratic gain is about one hundred and thirty, two hundred workingmen were deterred from voting by the threats of overseers. In some of the mills, the day after the election, notices were put up that from that day one hour would be added to the labor, and a reduction of ten per cent, from their wages. Twelve hours a day! Such a Russian tyranny only has a footbold in pampered New England.

What Radicalism Is, When is Power.

The astounding result of the Connecticut election is having one pleasant effect on that portion of the Badical destructive not wholly abundoned to crazy passions it is haiting them in their rushing career of madness, at least long enough to take a retrospective survey of what their party has been and what it survely will continue to be, if power is much longer tolerated in their hands. Vide the Pittsburg Gasette "I must be confoseed (says that paper) that the election indicates a reaction, not strong and decisive, but sufficient to excite inquiry and cause remedial instrumentalities to be sought after promptly.

The Guestle anticipates a similar result in Pennsylvania, and puts forth the following as a strong crasson for its dread:

"Instead of reflecting credit on the Republican party, the General Assembly has been and enough that party into disrepute. If has been courageous in the pursuit of plunders, but has been and cowardly in the desience of sessing principles."

The composition of the Pennsylvania Legislature is more than two-thirds Radii and the party in the desirace of the pennsylvania and cowards in the purchase of the publican party, the General Assembly has been courageous in the pursuit of plunders. RESOLUTIONS.

belion are States in the Union, and have been recognized as such by every department of the Government, and by President Lincoln, who, in the midst of the war, invited them to electmembers of Congress; by President Johnson, in various proclamations and official acts; by Congress, which permitted Andrew Johnson to sit in the Senate as a Senator from Tennessee, and members from Virginia. Tennessee and Louisiana to sit in the House of Representatives after these States had seceded, and which further recognized them as States in the Union by the Congressional apportionment act providing for their due representation in Congress; by various tax laws, and especially by the direct tax; by the resolutions submitting anomiments to the Constitution for their approval, and by various other acts and resolutions imparting the same recognition; all of which were massed since the parting the same recognition; all of which were passed since the attempted secession of those States, by the Judiciary of the United States, which holds Federal Courts in all those States, and especially by the express or receipt of an order by United States, which holds Federal Courts in all those States, and especially by the Supreme Court, which entertains jurisdiction of cases coming from them, which it could not do were they not in the Union. That being thus in the Union, they stand on an equal tooting with their sister States—States with unequal rights being a thing unknown to the Constitution; that, by the express terms of the Constitution, each State is entitled to have two Senators and a due proportion of Representatives in the Congress, and to vote in all elections of President and Vice-president; that, though these rights are subject to interruption by a state of civil war, they can not, in time of peace, be suspended, much less destroyed, without a plain violation of the Constitution; that Congress has no power to deprive a State of its reserved rights, and reduce it to a Territorial condition; that therefore the exclusion, by the so-called Congress, of all representation from tentages, the proposed exclusion of those States, from all voice in the next Presidential election, the threatened overthrow of their State Governments and the reduction states, from all voice in the next Presidential election, the threatened overthrow of their State Governments and the reduction of their States to the condition of territories, are each and every one of them unconsitutional, revolutionary and despotic measures, destructive not merely of the rights of those States, but also of the rights of every other State in the Union. That those measures are parts of a plan to millify the Constitution, virtually overthrow the State Governments, to erect a consolidated desporism on their ruins; and to establish and perpetuate a tyrannical rule of a minorand perpetuate a tyramical rule of a minor-ity over a majority of the American peo-ple. That the people cannot, without a loss of their liberties, prosperity and honor, submit to such a result; and we, therefore, in the hope that the warning will be heeded and the danger to our situations be peaceably averted, do solemnly warn the advocates of the plan, that it will not be submitted to.

3. Resolved, That Congress is not an emulpotent law-making power. That the Constitution provides that no bill shall become a law without the approval of the President, unless it be passed by two-thirds of each House of Congress. That one of the objects of the present so-called Congress in excluding States from representation, is to pass bills by a two-thirds vote which, were all the States represented, could not so pass; and thus to virtually abolish the constitutional provision aforesaid. That if this precedent be acquiesced in, there will be nothing to prevent a bare majority of Congress, at any time in the future, from nullifying the constitutional veto of the President and usurping uncontrolled legislative power, by an exclusion of the minority from their seats. That the exclusion, of even in a single State, might give this control, and a pretext for such an exclusion would not be wanting to an unscrupulous and revolutionary party.

6. Resolved, That the Radical majority in the so-called Congress have proved themselves to be in tayor of Negra Suffrage by forcing it upon the people of the District of Columbia against their almost unanimous wish, solemnly expressed at the polls, by forcing it upon the people of all the Territories, and by their various devices to cooree the people of the South to adopt it; that we are opposed to Negro Suffrage, believing it would be productive of evil to both whites and blacks, and tend to produce a disastrous conflict of races.

7. Resolved, That far all their efforts to upholit the Constitution we tender to the President and to the majority of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States our hearty thanks.

8. Resolved, That we are in favor of a Democratic Convention of delegates from all the States, to be held at such time and place as may be agreed upon, and that the State Coutral Committee be authorized to concur with other proper committees in dxing time and place, and that we preter Louisville, Ky., as the place.
